

DEDICATION

This research is dedicated to my late parents Johane and Keitseng, my children, Tlotlo, Lemogang, Sebele and my husband Gaohengwe.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Many people encouraged me to pursue this study, it would be impossible to mention them all, but I must say special thanks to the following:

- My family for understanding when I could not be with them because of this study.
- My sister, my sisters-in-law and their daughters for looking after my family during my absence.
- Professors M. Poggenpoel, C.P.H Myburgh and doctor Oberholster for your encouragement and tolerance. I enjoyed your supervision.
- The Department of Health North-West for granting me a year for study.
- Bophelong Psychiatric Hospital for recommending my application for study.
- Dr Connie Mosome for encouraging me to do advanced psychiatric nursing.
- Participants in this study for your cooperation and patience when I was collecting data.
- The staff at Montshioa Township clinic for assisting me with identifying and contacting participants.
- Dr Nelia van der Linde for editing this work and translating my summary to Afrikaans.
- Mrs Mototo for translating my summary to Setswana.
- My typist Tlotlo.
- And my utmost thanks to God my Saviour for giving me strength to go on studying, when thoughts of quitting this study crossed my mind.
