

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The writing and completion of this Dissertation would not have been possible without the assistance, support and guidance of a few very special people in my life. I would like to show my gratitude to the following:

- My Creator, for giving me the strength and capability to complete this piece of work.
- My father and mother (Douglas and Trixie Muir). Thank you for always just wanting the best for me. Your unconditional love, care, concern, interest and trust in me has made me a stronger person. I can never thank you enough for making your children the main priority in your lives. What I have done, I have done to make you proud.
- My sisters, Elizabeth and Hayley, for always being concerned. Thank you for your support!
- My aunt, Carolina van der Grijp– thank you for your continuous support. You are a role model and will always be dear to my heart.
- My friend Louise – you may be far but your SMSs, emails and calls always give me strength. I am lucky to have you as my friend.
- Andrea Crystal, my friend and supervisor, who pushed me beyond any limits I thought I ever had. Your insight, invaluable comments and friendship has made this possible.
- Thank you to my friend, soul mate and companion, Cor Niemand. Your infinite belief in me always motivates me. Thanks for reading through many, many drafts of this Dissertation and always being prepared to listen to my uncrafted ideas and thoughts about life and this Dissertation. The writing of this Dissertation would not have been possible without your unconditional support and love.
