ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

- Prof CPH Myburgh, Faculty of Education and Nursing, Rand Afrikaans University, Johannesburg
  My greatest appreciation to Prof Chris who has believed in me from the first moment we met. He allowed me to venture on a research path that few others would have.

- Prof M Poggenpoel, Faculty of Education and Nursing, Rand Afrikaans University, Johannesburg.
  Prof Marie was the other half of the “team” whose exceptional supervision directed me through all the highs and lows of this project. Her sincere caring and calmness throughout the study has been the best support anyone can ever hope for.

- The Canadian Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Program for their funding of a Doctoral Residency at the International Institute for Qualitative Methodology, University of Alberta, Edmonton, Canada.
  It was a life changing experience to be exposed to the expertise of world leaders in qualitative research methods.

- Ms Annelie Bronkhorst, Dept of Biomedical Sciences, Tshwane University of Technology, Pretoria, South Africa.
  She assisted me with the transcription of the audio-recorded interviews.

- Mr Lourens Human, Dept of Psychology, University of Pretoria, South Africa.
  We had many fruitful and stimulating discussions regarding social constructions and narratives. Also, he assisted with a peer review of my phenomenological data analysis.

- Ms Ilze Grobler, Tshwane University of Technology, Pretoria, South Africa.
  Ilze was the reference psychologist for this project.
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

- Faculty of Health Sciences, Tshwane University of Technology, Pretoria, South Africa. I’m especially appreciative of Prof M Lowes and Prof D du Toit who have supported me throughout my postgraduate studies and allowed me to spend a sabbatical period in Canada.

- My family and friends for your sustained support of my studies throughout the years.

- The Triune God, for giving me talents, opportunities and loyal friends.
