

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

- Above all I am thankful to God. There were times that I wondered where I found the words that I wrote, since my first language is Afrikaans. He also provided at all the right times exactly what was required of me to understand the experiences of these brave young adults without me being severely traumatised.
- Prof W J Schoeman, for his enthusiastic support and his silent faith in my dedication and commitment to this study under difficult circumstances. His valuable insight and support are much appreciated. When I became impatient, Prof Schoeman inspired me with his astonishing patience, determination and encouraging words. I am sincerely grateful.
- The seven extremely brave and helpful participants who agreed to participate in this study in order to help other children's home school leavers in future to better adapt to developing into healthy functioning adults in society. They shared their (sometimes extremely traumatic) experiences, valuable insights and understanding of their experiences without any reservation. I believe that your courage will make a difference!
- My husband, Josua, for his valuable academic inputs, support and encouragement in more than one way in order for me to complete my degree in difficult circumstances! Without you this would not have been possible. I greatly appreciate the opportunity that you have given me to follow my dreams. No other person could ever have been as understanding and encouraging as you were. Your attitude towards work and studies made it easier for me to sometimes accept that I could not spend as much time with you as I would have liked to.
- To Dorah Mthombeni, who had to baby-sit Jeannette very skilfully if she desperately wanted to "help mommy with her work" on the computer or wanted to "organise my papers". It also would have been impossible to follow through if it had not been for all your practical assistance in running the household, especially at difficult times.
- My parents, family and close friends, who encouraged me and constantly enquired about my progress. Thank you! Thank you in particular to my parents and Tania Pretorius for your belief in my dedication and understanding that it was sometimes difficult to give you all the attention that you deserved. Here I need to mention that my mother passed away before I could finish my Master. I so sincerely wanted to thank her for tirelessly supporting me and showing her pride. This counts for my new best friends Christa van Rensburg and Atala Myburgh and my three brothers and sister as well, whom I love dearly.
- And last, but not least, to Clarie Niemand, who volunteered to do my first language editing at no cost at all! You are the material angels are made of! I hope that you will follow suit with what you started after the inspiration of the study! Thank you also for your inspirational words.

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	i
List of tables	vii
1. Chapter 1: Introduction	1
2. Chapter 2: The State Care Leaver	8
3. Chapter 3: Literature Study: Developmental Theory: Late Adolescence and Transition into Young Adulthood	18
4. Chapter 4: Acculturation	31
5. Chapter 5: Phenomenology as a Research Method	42
6. Chapter 6: Research Approach and Method	48
7. Chapter 7: Findings and Interpretations of the Study	58
8. Chapter 8: Evaluation, Recommendations and Conclusion	122
References	143
Appendix: Written Contract for Interview	152
Participant Informed Consent	153

CONTENTS (detailed)

List of Tables	vii
CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION	1
1.1 General introduction	1
1.2 Statement of the problem and rationale for the study	2
1.3 Aim of this study	5
1.4 Assumptions of the study	5
1.5 Statement of delimitations	6
1.6 Overview of the present study	6
CHAPTER 2: THE STATE CARE LEAVER	8
2.1 Definition of the state care leaver	8
2.2 State care leavers' phenomenological experience in literature	8
2.3 Other authors on the experience of the state care leaver	13
2.3.1 Accelerated transition	13
2.3.2 Loneliness	14
2.3.3 No support, no resources, lack of knowledge and lack of skills	14
2.3.4 The black care leaver's experience in literature	15
2.3.5 Conclusion	16
2.4 Findings of the preliminary pilot study conducted	16
2.5 Conclusion	16
CHAPTER 3: LITERATURE STUDY: DEVELOPMENTAL THEORY: LATE ADOLESCENCE AND TRANSITION INTO YOUNG ADULTHOOD	18
3.1 Introduction	18
3.2 Discussion of relevant theory	18
3.3 Specific concepts in the development of late adolescence	20
3.3.1 Identity achievement	20
3.3.2 Identity and society	21
3.3.3 Intimacy	22
3.3.4 Autonomy	23
3.3.5 Cognitive development in late adolescence	25
3.4 Conclusion	26
3.5 Society and development	26
3.6 Critique on developmental theory	28
CHAPTER 4: ACCULTURATION	31
4.1 Introduction	31
4.2 The role of culture in psychological development	31
4.3 Acculturation	32

4.4	Collectivism versus individualism	37
4.5	Two theories on the state care leaver's experience as late Adolescent	38
	4.5.1 Bereavement	38
	4.5.2 Cognitive stress theory	39
4.6	Conclusion on the late adolescent state care leaver	40
CHAPTER 5: PHENOMENOLOGY AS A RESEARCH METHOD		42
5.1	Justification for choosing a phenomenological research method	42
5.2	The foundational concepts of phenomenology	42
	5.2.1 Lebenswelt	43
	5.2.2 Being-in-the-world	43
5.3	The phenomenological research approach	44
5.4	Researcher bias in the phenomenological literature review	45
5.5	Conclusion	46
CHAPTER 6: RESEARCH APPROACH AND METHOD		48
6.1	Introduction	48
6.2	Rationale behind the choice of participants	48
6.3	The practical choice of participants	50
6.4	A note on young adults reflecting on adolescent experiences	51
6.5	The interview	52
	6.5.1 Written contract	52
	6.5.2 The interview format	53
6.6	Analysis	54
6.7	Conclusion	57
CHAPTER 7: FINDINGS AND INTERPRETATIONS OF THE STUDY		58
7.1	Introduction	58
	7.1.1 Overview of findings	59
	7.1.2 A note for easier reading	60
7.2	Findings and interpretations: Similar experiences among the participants in the study	60
	7.2.1 Discrimination	60
	7.2.2 Lack of knowledge	66
	a. Lack of knowledge of independent living skills	66
	b. Lack of social skills, social knowledge and different social rules	72
	c. Lack of career knowledge and career exposure	79
	7.2.3 Social support	81
	7.2.4 Lack of trust	86
	7.2.5 Feelings of loneliness	89
	7.2.6 Lies about their past	92
	7.2.7 First hostel (residence) experiences	94
	7.2.8 Experiencing acculturation: Collectivism versus individualism	98

7.3	Findings and interpretations: Different experiences among the participants in the study	99
7.3.1	Intimacy	99
7.3.2	Making friends	104
7.3.3	Coping mechanisms	109
7.3.4	Religion	112
7.4	Findings: Single experiences of the participants of this study	113
7.4.1	“Ek haat vakansies”: *Kathryn, personal interview, September 10, 2004	113
7.4.2	“Huis Komitee behandel my soos ‘n krimineel”*: *Kathryn, personal interview, September 10, 2004	114
7.4.3	“Kinderhuis kinders mag nie droom nie”*: *Henry, personal interview, September 17, 2004	115
7.4.4	“Ek pas nêrens in nie”*: *George, personal interview, September 29, 2004	115
7.4.5	“My ma steel my geld vir die toekoms”*: *J.J., personal interview, September 29, 2004	116
7.5	Findings: Summary	118
7.6	Conclusion	119
CHAPTER 8: EVALUATION, RECOMMENDATIONS AND CONCLUSION		122
8.1	Overview of the phenomenological experience of the late adolescent state care leaver	122
8.2	Problems encountered in the study	122
8.2.1	A word on the exclusion of interviewees in the study	123
8.2.2	Problems encountered with age in the study	125
8.3	Evaluation of the study	127
8.3.1	Ethical issues	126
8.3.2	Trustworthiness	126
8.3.3	Strengths and Limitations	129
8.4	Recommendations to address the experience of the state care leaver	130
8.4.1	Professional career guidance	130
8.4.2	Exposure to different subcultures and skills training	131
8.4.3	Multiracial volunteers for skills training	131
8.4.4	Comprehensive volunteer training programme	132
8.4.5	Aftercare homes	132
8.4.6	Specifically trained staff for aftercare houses	132
8.4.7	Adapting of disciplinary structures in children’s homes	133
8.4.8	Education of tertiary personnel as support system	134
8.4.9	Empowerment through skills training	134
8.4.10	Inclusion of preventative programme for school leavers	136
8.4.11	Skills training house for school leavers in final year	137
8.4.12	Career exposure during holidays	138
8.4.13	Conclusion (from previous literature)	138
8.5	Recommendations for future research	140
8.6	Conclusion of the study	141

REFERENCES	143
APPENDIX A: WRITTEN CONTRACT FOR INTERVIEW: PARTICIPANT INFORMED CONSENT	152

LIST OF TABLES

TABLE 4.1: PSYCHOLOGICAL ACCULTURATION	33
TABLE 4.2: MODERATING FACTORS PRIOR TO ACCULTURATION	35
TABLE 4.3: MODERATING FACTORS ARISING DURING ACCULTURATION	35

