NOTE:

The terms business, organization, company and enterprise are used intermittently as the meaning of each of these terms indicates a considerable overlap and should be read within the context of the text or reference used. In other instances, these terms are quoted directly from source and therefore used as such.

Below are some examples of such overlap taken from Microsoft Thesaurus:-

Business Company, corporation, conglomerate, establishment, firm, small business, enterprise or venture;

Organization Business, company, concern, corporation, establishment

Company Corporation, business

Enterprise Venture, project, endeavour, activity
