WRITING IN HOSTILE SPACES:

A CRITICAL EXAMINATION OF SOUTH AFRICAN PRISON LITERATURE

by

EIRWEN ELIZABETH RENÉ OSWALD

THESIS

Submitted in fulfilment of the requirements of the degree of

DOCTOR OF LITERATURE AND PHILOSOPHY

in

ENGLISH

in the

FACULTY OF ARTS

of the

UNIVERSITY OF JOHANNESBURG

MAY 2005

Supervisor: Prof. C. MacKenzie
Table of Contents

Dedication i

Acknowledgements ii

Preface iii

Chapter 1 – A Concise History of South African Prisons 1

Chapter 2 – A Survey of South African Prison Literature 11

Chapter 3 – Defining 'Prison Writing' 31

Chapter 4 – Writing in Hostile Spaces 61

Chapter 5 – Cold Stone Jug as the foundational text for Prison Literature 74

Chapter 6 – The Prison Novel 114

Chapter 7 – Prison Poetry 141

Chapter 8 – Prison Letters and Diaries 178

Chapter 9 – Prison Writing of Women 203

Conclusion 226

Bibliography 246